Who We Are

Andes Amazon Fund protects natural landscapes with rich or unique biodiversity in the greater Andes and Amazon region. We support the creation and expansion of protected areas and the legal recognition of Indigenous lands with an integrated approach where nature and local peoples can flourish.

Where we work

Guyana

Suriname

Colombia

Ecuador

Peru

Amazon Rainforest

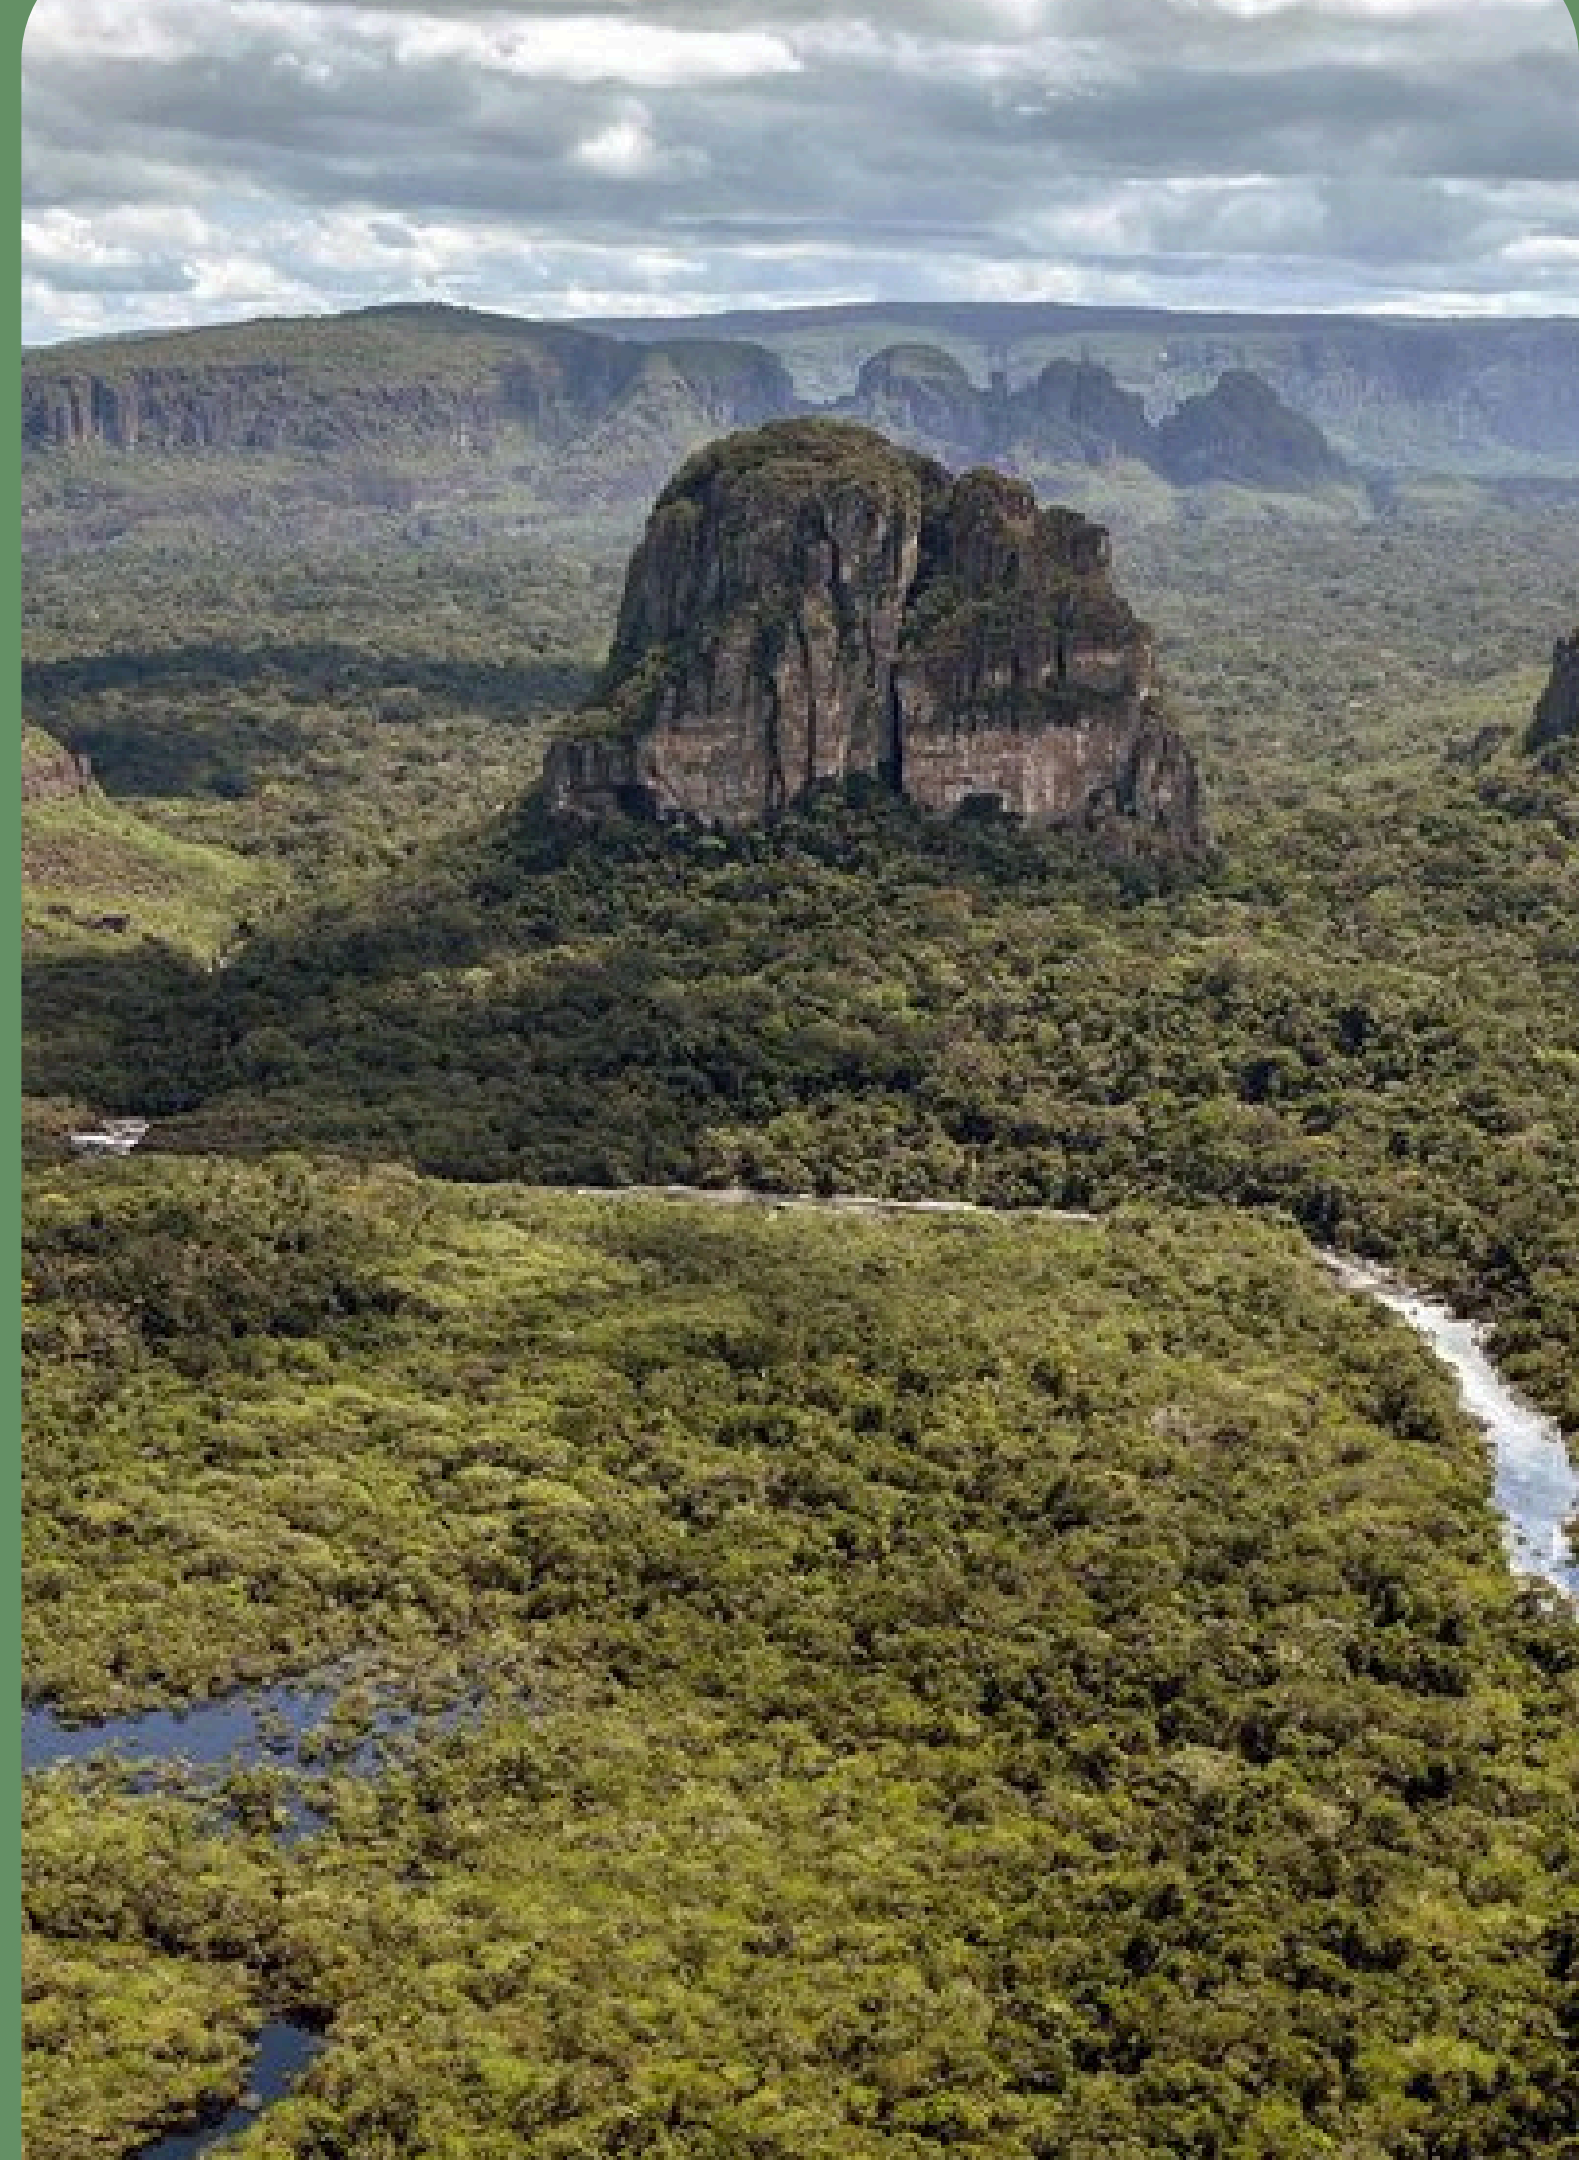

Brazil

Bolivia

AAF Supports

- Technical studies and social outreach processes for creating and expanding protected areas
- Local, regional, and national level protected areas (categories we fund vary by country)
- Indigenous land titling
- Funding channeled through civil society organizations
- Initial management funds for areas formally declared with AAF support
  - park guards, area monitoring, creation of management plans, and activities to encourage sustainable livelihoods

Grantmaking Process

- Send a concept note to cata@andesamazonfund.org
- We respond with a request for a proposal
- Upon receipt of the proposal, we have a few rounds of revisions before approval

The grant amount depends on the size and nature of the area. We fund initial projects for a duration of one year.

Thank you!
